By the Beaver Pool

STORY BY CATHERINE WARD

ILLUSTRATIONS BY PHOEBE ROZE

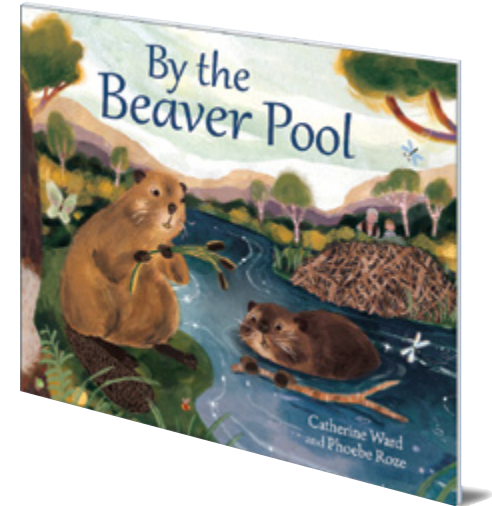

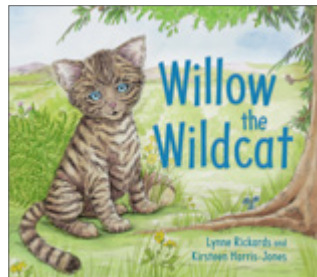

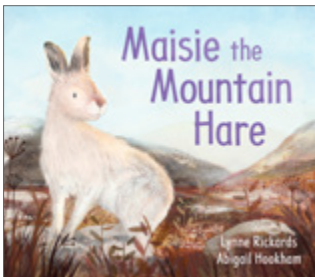

A beautifully illustrated tale of new beginnings that will also teach children about the brilliance of beavers

- Beck learns to love their new home at Grandma's farm with the help of a pair of beavers building in the stream nearby
- Catherine Ward deftly spins together a compelling story with factual information about how beavers build their homes and positively impact the environment
- Contains an emotional learning message about making the best of new circumstances and learning to adapt to different surroundings
- Full of character and warmth, Phoebe Roze's illustrations perfectly capture the atmosphere of the Scottish countryside
- Features an ungendered main character

Catherine Ward is a children's author and primary school teacher with a passion for wildlife conservation. She is also the author of The Emerald Forest.

Phoebe Roze is an illustrator from the Scottish Highlands who is inspired by the landscapes, nature and folklore of Scotland. By the Beaver Pool is her first picture book.

My Granny Went to Scotland and she brought back . . .

STORY BY MIKE NICHOLSON

ILLUSTRATIONS BY PATRICK CORRIGAN

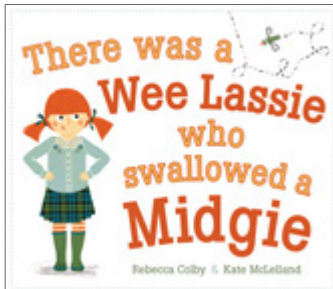

A hilarious and lively Scottish twist on the popular memory game

- Inspired by the classic game where children have a growing list of things to remember
- Meet an enthusiastic Granny returning from Scotland with a series of surreal gifts, with increasingly chaotic impact on the family living room
- Granny's gifts include a daft wee dog, a bellowing bagpiper, a hairy Highland cow, a cumbersome caber and even the Loch Ness Monster!
- Patrick Corrigan's colourful illustrations bring energy, fun and silliness to every page, culminating in a fold-out double spread
- A perfect souvenir to bring back from Scotland

Mike Nicholson is a prize-winning author of humorous children's books, including Catscape, the Museum Mystery Squad series and the Thistle Street picture books. Mike lives in Edinburgh.

Patrick Corrigan has worked as a teacher and an art director specialising in picture books and educational books. He is now a freelance illustrator and author based in Cheshire.

My Home is in My Backpack

STORY BY EUGENIA PERRELLA

ILLUSTRATIONS BY ANGELA SALERNO

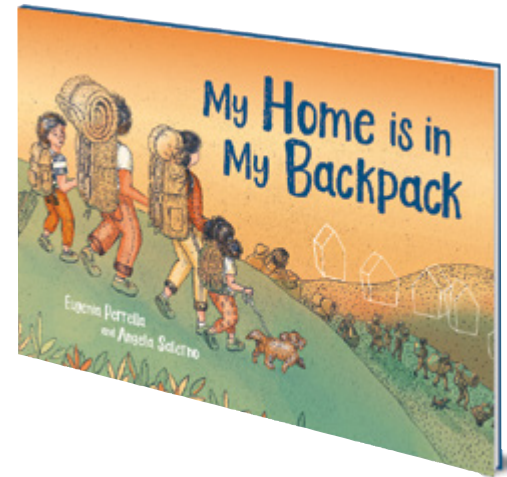

Clara and her family begin a long journey to safety in this powerful picture book about courage, perseverance and community

- A poignant but hopeful view of forced migration and displacement told through the eyes of a child
- Inspired by real-life refugee stories from Venezuela, Eugenia Perrella's lyrical and affecting text gently offers children a glimpse into this difficult subject
- Angela Salerno's striking illustrations bring life and humanity to a subject that is otherwise abstract for most young children
- The core emotional learning message is that home is a concept, not a place – it's the people and the things that we love, and carry with us in our hearts and minds
- An important and timely book that encourages empathy and understanding

Eugenia Perrella is a journalist and children's author from Argentina. She brings her journalistic passion into her writing for children, and has written more than a dozen children's books.

Angela Salerno is a graphic designer and illustrator from Argentina whose work often highlights social justice issues. She has illustrated several children's books. Angela lives in Valencia, Spain.
